

Local Wildlife Biologist Lends Expertise During Appearance on History Channel

Golden, CO - April, 09 2009 - TheWildSource.com founder Bill Given is being featured in an episode of the the History Channel Series MonsterQuest. The episode is titled "Snowbeast Slaughter" and draws on Bill's expertise as a Colorado wildlife biologist to examine reports of a mammal that is alleged to be responsible for elk predation in the high country west of Colorado Springs.

"It was a lot of fun to work with the crew at the History Channel as well as the City of Pueblo GIS Department. While I personally believe that all large mammals in Colorado are currently known, I greatly appreciate the spirit of discovery of the MonsterQuest crew".

TheWildSource.com is located in Golden, CO and was founded in 2008. The company provides wildlife biologist planned safaris to Africa. For more information visit www.TheWildSource.com.
